30 The Mikron Group

A warm welcome

Dear Shareholders,

The major changes in the automotive industry have left their mark on almost all mechanical engineering companies and tool manufacturers. The Mikron Group is also looking back on a challenging 2019. The Machining Solutions business segment was clearly affected by customers' great reluctance to invest in durable production equipment. Following a boom in the 2018 financial year, demand for our tools also fell significantly from mid-2019 onwards. However, thanks to the broader range of tools on offer, especially for new markets and applications, the volume stabilized at a satisfactory level.

The continued good performance of Mikron Automation is very encouraging. All locations in this segment with the exception of the Berlin plant, which primarily serves German automotive customers, benefited from a good market environment. Mikron Automation's business developed particularly well in Switzerland and the USA. Both locations succeeded in delivering very large and technically highly complex assembly systems to the full satisfaction of our customers. Mikron also made further important progress in Asia in 2019.

Management Report (excerpt)

In the 2019 financial year, the Mikron Group was able to increase sales and maintain EBIT at the previous year's level. By contrast, the Group saw a significant year-on-year decline in order intake and order backlog, especially in the Mikron Machining Solutions business segment. Overall, the Group achieved sales of CHF 327.6 million (prior year: 314.7 million, +4.1%) and order intake of CHF 288.5 million (prior year: CHF 362.3 million -20.4%). The order backlog of CHF 157.4 million on December 31, 2019, is markedly behind the record figure of December 31, 2018 (CHF 195.7 million, -19.6%). With EBIT at CHF 14.1 million (prior year: CHF 13.9 million, +1.4%), the Group achieved an EBIT margin of 4.3% (2018: 4.4%).

Group business review

The two business segments Mikron Automation and Mikron Machining Solutions have seen very different market developments and business performances in 2019. Mikron Automation made excellent use of the good order backlog at the beginning of the year and of the generally positive dynamics in its core market. The Machining Solutions segment suffered primarily from the sharp decline in demand in the machine business – especially from the automotive industry.

Mikron Automation established itself further as a leading technology and assembly solution supplier in the European and US pharmaceutical and medtech industries. In contrast, order intake from the automotive industry was well below the corresponding prior-year figure.

The Mikron Machining Solutions business segment operates as two divisions: Mikron Machining and Mikron Tool. The Mikron Machining division already saw a decline in demand from the automotive industry in the first half of the year. In the second half, demand began to falter in the other market segments as well, while demand from automotive customers reduced further.

After the excellent growth seen in the prior year, the Mikron Tool division started 2019 with a large order backlog. As numerous customers reduced their inventories and call-off obligations after the market overheated in 2018, tool orders decreased markedly in 2019. The division generally maintained sales at the solid prior-year volume, thanks in part to new products.

Order intake

The Mikron Group reported order intake of CHF 288.5 million in 2019, representing a decrease of 20.4% against the prior year (CHF 362.3 million).

Europe remains Mikron's most important market, with approximately 51% of orders received in 2019 placed by European customers (previous year: 49%). The two strongest market segments are the pharmaceutical and medtech industries with 48% (previous year: 40%) and the automotive industry contributing 16% (prior year: 31%) to overall order intake. In North America, Mikron Automation did not quite reach the high level of the previous year, while Mikron Machining Solutions was able to make some gains at a low level. In Asia, on the other hand, Mikron Automation received more orders and Mikron Machining Solutions fewer than in the previous year.

Net sales, capacity utilization and order backlog

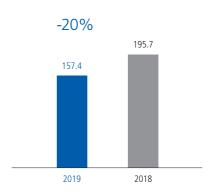

Posting annual net sales of CHF 327.6 million, the Mikron Group exceeded the prior-year result (CHF 314.7 million) by 4.1%. While Mikron Automation succeeded in increasing sales by 14.2%, Mikron Machining Solutions posted a decrease of 5.5%.

While the Mikron Automation business segment enjoyed good capacity utilization throughout the 2019 financial year, this was not the case for the Mikron Machining Solutions business segment. The Machining division already started to reduce capacity and introduce short-time working toward the end of 2019. During the year under review, the Mikron Tool division was mostly able to fill the available capacity thanks to an exceptionally high order backlog at the beginning of the year and reduced but relatively stable order intake.

At CHF 157.4 million, the Mikron Group's order backlog at the end of 2019 was 19.6% lower than the prior-year record figure. While the Machining Solutions business segment reported a year-on-year decline in order backlog of 44.0%, the same figure decreased by 6.9% in the Automation segment.

Profitability

In the 2019 business year, the Mikron Group reported EBIT of CHF 14.1 million (previous year: CHF 13.9 million).

The Mikron Machining Solutions business segment posted EBIT of CHF 1.1 million (prior year: CHF 4.2 million). The decrease in profitability reflects the lower level of machine sales in 2019 as well as ongoing new product development costs, with the tools business achieving a pleasing result overall. Mikron Automation reported improved EBIT of CHF 12.9 million after the prior year's EBIT of CHF 8.4 million. The EBIT margin for this business segment increased to 7.3% (prior year: 5.4%).

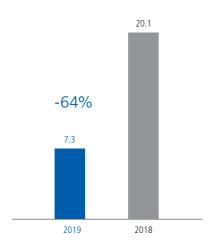

Mikron's net earnings for 2019 were CHF 8.8 million, compared to CHF 12.2 million in the prior year. Net earnings per share for 2019 came to CHF 0.54 (prior year: CHF 0.74). At the Annual General Meeting on April 15, the Board of Directors of the Mikron Group will propose a distribution from capital contribution reserves of CHF 0.03 per share and a dividend of CHF 0.03 per share.

Balance sheet, financing and equity ratio

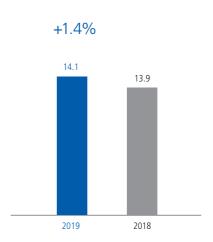

Overall, the Mikron Group's balance sheet remains strong. Mikron is free of net debt, and reports a healthy equity ratio.

Cash and cash equivalents plus current financial assets of CHF 44.1 million exceed interestbearing liabilities of CHF 21.6 million. The current financial assets of CHF 6.2 million are mainly invested in Swiss franc bonds with a residual maturity of less than three years. The net cash position remained at a high CHF 22.5 million or 7% of net sales (prior year: 11%).

EBIT in CHF million

Net working capital rose by CHF 9.5 million to CHF 41.8 million. Overall, net working capital to net sales amounts to 13%, which is an increase compared with the prior year (10%). This was driven by a lower level of prepayments received from projects sold before year-end.

Outlook

At Group level, the outlook is currently very difficult, not only for order intake, but also for sales and profitability in 2020. The lower capacity utilization at Mikron Machining Solutions and the necessary adjustments will have a significant impact on Mikron's results in 2020. The effects of the coronavirus cannot yet be estimated.

Mikron Automation

The Automation business segment witnessed a renewed year-on-year increase in sales as well as a further improvement in profitability in 2019. This was due in particular to encouraging developments in the pharmaceutical and medtech sectors, its main market.

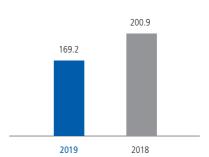

In the 2019 financial year as well, Mikron Automation's highly productive assembly systems continued to enjoy strong demand worldwide in its main market, comprising the pharmaceutical and medtech industries. In contrast, order intake from the automotive industry was well below the corresponding prior-year figure. The uncertainty prevailing in this sector also impacted Mikron Automation. Several projects were postponed, and prices came under greatly increased pressure. This was felt particularly acutely by the Berlin site, working exclusively for the automotive industry.

Thanks to a solid pipeline of projects from 2018 at the decision stage, a number of major repeat orders from the pharmaceutical and medtech industries and several new orders from the European electronics industry, Mikron Automation was able to keep order intake at a healthy level despite a substantial fall-off from the automotive industry. Western Europe and the USA remain Mikron Automation's main geographic markets.

Mikron Machining Solutions

The Machining Solutions business segment very clearly felt the decline in demand from the automotive industry in the 2019 financial year. This is particularly true of the machinery business. Despite an encouraging order backlog at the beginning of the year, the business segment suffered a year-on-year decline in sales.

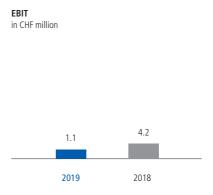

The Mikron Machining division started the year under review with an overall satisfactory order backlog. Due to the sharp drop in demand from the automotive industry, order intake in this division was disappointing overall, especially from mid-year onwards.

The Mikron Tool division started 2019 with a high order backlog and delivery times still long. As of early summer there was a visible fall-off in demand from the automotive industry. After the market overheated in 2018, many customers reduced their inventories and call-off obligations. This had an impact on order intake. In other markets such as medtech, aviation and the watchmaking industry, demand for Mikron's high-tech tools continued to rise. Thanks in part to new products, the division generally maintained sales at the solid prior-year volume.
